Let's Educate For Parenthood

One of the greatest problems that must be dealt with today is parental misunderstanding of children. By saying children, I do not mean children from the ages of one to twelve, but the teen-agers. Most adults seem to forget that in every life there is a time when youth is present, both in body and mind.

Why is there misunderstanding? The answer may be found on either side, either that of the parents or that of the teen-agers.

The parents feel that the kids are just taking advantage of their age in not accepting any additional responsibilities aside from their own necessary responsibilities. When the adults were young, they were forbidden to do many of the things that the youth of today is allowed to do.

The kids feel that their parents are always correcting them. They feel insecure in their homes and they know that they are not being trusted.

Parents do not make their children feel secure. The kids are ever conscious of the fact that their opinions are not being respected by their elders. The parents do not give their kids enough recognition for what they do and they take little interest in anything that they do. Most of the parents do not appreciate what the kids do for them or for others. They do not understand the wants and desires of the teen-agers. When adults want something done, they never bother to explain what it might be for, and give the kids no reason for do-

Engineers Present Two Paving Plans For 10th And 11th

At the City Council meeting last Wednesday night, April 23, two tentative proposals for the paving of Tenth and Eleventh streets were read.

The first plan was for a four inch base and one inch armor coat for a substantial surface. There would be one curb and the water would be carried down by a rolled gutter on one side of the street. In this plan all the cavities and eroded areas would be brought up to the general level of the adjoining properties. The above improvements would cost approximately $1,385 per block.

The second tentative plan that was read before the council was as follows: The base would be of de-

Carmel Writers Shouldn't Stay Here Too Long, Says Fred Bechdolt

BY ROBIN ROBISON, SENIOR

Have you ever noticed a tall, slender man walking down the street, munching an apple and wearing a battered gray felt hat? Well, that's Fred Bechdolt, one of Carmel's claims to distinction. Mr. Bechdolt (Beck to his friends) is a famous western story writer. Currently he is working on a serial about the country near the San Antonio Mission.

Mr. Bechdolt has been here since 1907. The reasons for his staying are that Carmel is very comfortable and there are always interesting people to meet. He admits that back east he could have made more money, but life is easier and far pleasanter in Carmel.

When Mr. Bechdolt was asked how he got his start in the writing profession, he told a moving story. A copy writer on the Salt Lake City Herald—where Beck was also employed—died. This man was poor and practically friendless though he had lived in Salt Lake City for years. At his funeral there were only a few people from the newspaper staff. Beck thought that "it was a hell of a life," and decided to break loose and start out for himself. His first fiction story was sold to McClure's Magazine.

When asked, "What is the best way to learn how to write," Beck

High Schools Write Approval Of Art Festival

The first annual art festival and competition sponsored jointly by the Carmel High School and the Carmel Art Association will be held from May 20 to 27, 1947.

Already a number of schools have sent in their application to submit paintings in the three classifications: most creative work in any medium; best still life; any three-dimensional expression, including crafts, sculpture, ceramics. Most of the schools greeted the idea enthusiastically.

Davis Joint Union High School writes, "Sounds like a grand idea. Wish we could come to see the show if it weren't so far away." Bishop Union High School, "An interesting speculation. Will be glad to join you." St. Helena High School, "This is a great idea. Best wishes." Los Gatos Union High

Parents And Taxpayers Invited To See Schools In Action April 28-May 3

BY OWEN GREENAN

Public Schools Week, starting next Monday, has several very important meanings. The purpose usually thought of is that it affords the parents of the community a chance to view their children while they are working in their classes. On the practical side, this week is also a chance for our tax payers to assure themselves that their school plant is being properly managed. Here in Carmel we are very fortunate in having an almost ideal setting and spirit for a successful school. However, instead of sitting back and eating the fruits of our success, we must increase our efforts to improve our school.

In an attempt to give the people of Carmel an interesting cross-section of the schools, the administrations of Sunset and the High School have arranged a program that will continue through the week.

A project undertaken jointly by Sunset and the High School is this annual issue of The Carmel Pine Cone. All material for this paper has been collected and edited by students of both schools.

As in the past, all classes of both schools will be open to the public.

The newly founded Monterey Regional Symphony, which is under the direction of the Adult School, will make its debut at Fort Ord on April 28.

Sunset School's outstanding contribution to Public Schools Week will be a program of folk dancing that will take place on the primary field at 2 p. m. next Wednesday.

Thursday is a big day at Sunset School, where at 1:00 o'clock the parents can view the workings of student government at a student body meeting. The meeting will be followed with a play given by Miss Harriette Norman's class. After school at 3:30 o'clock, sports fans are in for a real treat when the fathers play the sons in a roaring baseball game.

On Thursday the High School will do its part by presenting a student body meeting, followed by the presentation of athletic awards to those boys who won their letters in basketball. The lightweight players are: Bill Sapsis, Dick Gargiulo, Ward Gilbert, Dick Weer, Bob Barry, and Murrey Wight. Varsity players are: Owen Greenan, Lee Winslow, Lew McCreery, Richard Templeman, Max Hodges, Perry Brown, Richard Mulholland, Bill Cross, Bud Pitman, and Peter Carpenter, manager.

This High School assembly will terminate Public Schools Week activity in Carmel.

Anne Fisher Goes Looking For Canes And Finds "Gold, Sweat, And Sin"

BY MARY GREGORY

I rang the doorbell and waited, apprehensively. Would she be tired and brusque after her long day's work? The bother of such an interview was suddenly painfully apparent to me.

I heard hurrying footsteps; the door opened; a tall, gracious lady appeared before me—and my fears vanished. I should have known that the writer of such a beautiful, heart-warming book as Cathedral in the Sun could not be unfriendly. We went upstairs to her workroom, a tiny, airy room in which the pages of her newest book and all the material used for it were piled everywhere.

We sat down, and I observed that Anne B. Fisher is a striking woman with an angular face, close-cut graying hair, large, brown eyes, dancingly alive, and a large smiling mouth.

Answering my questions about her newest book, Mrs. Fisher told me the unusual set of circumstances which led to its being written.

Last summer on her way to Mariposa Mrs. Fisher met a friend who insisted upon taking her to the romantic old ghost-town, Columbia, which the state has recently bought to be preserved to the memory of California's gold rush days.

It happened that her friend, Mr. Morris, collects old canes, so they went to a little antique shop, "just like Wendy's cottage in Peter Pan," to look for some. They were unsuccessful in that venture, but the proprietress did offer to guide

THE STAFF

Editor of this issue of The Pine Cone, the Seventeenth Annual School Issue, is Eleanor Bannerman, Carmel High School Junior. Her assistant editors are Carla George and Jean Morlan. Karen Williams, Pat Bullard, Owen Greenan, and Paul Warner served as reporters, while Betty Goulart, Robin Robison, Diane Tait and Rosemary Hobson conducted the Pine Needles department. All are high school students.

Sunset School, as well as the high school, has made its contribution in prose, poetry and art work. The result, which is entirely the work of the students of the two schools, is an issue that the regular Editor and Publisher are proud to present to The Pine Cone readers.

PACIFIC GROVE BREAKERS DOWN PADRES, 4-3

By OWEN GREENAN

The Carmel Padres got the short end of an evenly matched game Friday at the Pacific Grove ball park. Each team had only one error indicating good play on both sides. Pacific Grove gained two runs in the first inning when Larkin, Toole, and Siewert all doubled in succession. Pacific Grove's remaining two came in the fourth and sixth innings. The pitching of Bob Siewert of the Breakers and Lee Winslow of Carmel was steady, each allowing five hits.

Next week the Padres play King City at the Bean City field.

MONTEREY RELAYS REVIVED

Friday night, April 18, at the Monterey High School was the date set for the revival of one of the great sports events of the Monterey Peninsula. The Monterey Relays were discontinued during the war, but enjoyed a terrific comeback Friday night with five C. C. A. L. schools entered in the track and field events. The participating schools were Monterey, Salinas, Pacific Grove, Gonzales, and Carmel. Pacific Grove showed well distributed strength while taking first place in five events and winning the meet.

There was little chance for individual showings from the boys since all the track events were relays and the field events were scored on the basis of the best showing made by four boys, two heavyweights and two lightweights from each school whose heights or distances were added together to complete one score.

The only event run for individual honors was the 120 yard hurdles. Carmel distinguished itself in this contest with Paul Warner and Bud Pitman taking first and fourth respectively. Warner and Pitman should form a strong nucleus for Carmel's shuttle relay team that will see action at the Hollister invitational meet this evening.

For many of the track fans at the Monterey meet, the climax of the entire evening was the expected duel between the two anchor men of Monterey's and Carmel's distance medley teams. The two runners, Bob Bangle of Monterey, and Bob Barry of Carmel, are probably the best milers in C. C. A. L. competition. The remainder of the Carmel team, Bill Cross, Peter Ott and Vic Harbor, gave Barry a ten-yard lead when the baton was passed to him. On the second lap a great cheer came from the Monterey stands as Baugh passed Barry. The race continued with Baugh in the lead until only half a lap remained in the race. Here the entire crowd went wild as Barry opened up with a terrific sprint, passing Baugh and winning the race.

Everyone seemed to have a good time at the Monterey Relays and is looking forward to seeing them again next year.—Owen Greenan.

ABALONE LEAGUE

The Carmel Abalone League continued its play last Sunday despite the weather which held a promise of rain.

On the first encounter the Shamrocks defeated the Giants with a convincing 12-2 score.

Studevant had a good day at the plate getting home four times for four trips at bat.

The second game saw the Tigers nose out the Pilots by one run to win, 4-3.

The Abalone League is enjoying good turnouts this year and seems to be approaching its pre-war high in popularity. Stop by the high school field any Sunday and watch the play; it's well worth it.

BENEFIT GAME

Last Saturday night, the Monterey Peninsula 20-30 Club defeated the champion basketball team of the Monterey Industrial League, 43 to 35. The high score for the 20-30 Club was won by Max Davison with 17 points. For the losing team, Phil and Tom Debord each made 11 points.

This was a benefit game with proceeds going to the Cancer drive.

Anne Fisher, Looking For Canes, Finds Material For Book

them through historic St. Anne's church, usually closed to tourists. While they were there, Mrs. Fisher was introduced to a Miss Othello Weston, who had been collecting material about the mother-lode country for fifteen years. Reluctantly (she was busy with another book), Mrs. Fisher looked over the trunkful of ideas and lost her heart to it. So if Mr. Morris hadn't wanted his canes, the book would never have been written.

In August, she and Miss Weston began the labor of putting the years' accumulation into order, and on the basis of the fascinating diaries and documents at her disposal, Mrs. Fisher began work in December on Gold, Sweat, and Sin. She has been working night and day since then, not even stopping for Christmas or New Year's Day, in the hopes that the book can be first released on January 28, 1948, just 100 years after the first discovery of gold.

In organizing the wealth of data, Miss Weston and Mrs. Fisher kept it chronologically by day, and in giving an example of the continual excitement of those days, she cited a week in which there were "14 robberies, 4 murders, 2 hangings, a baby born, and the town burned down."

Miss Weston's photographs of the mother-lode country, of which Mrs. Fisher speaks in superlatives, are being published by the Stanford Press, under the name of Pictorial Guide to the Mother-Lode.

Mrs. Fisher's first story was published in a children's magazine when she was 10 years old, but she later gave up writing to become a nurse and then a bacteriologist. She moved from Denver, Colorado, to Pacific Grove, in 1920, when she married.

She took up writing again when she found that bacteriology and housework didn't mix. Her first book, Look What Colleges Can Do, a satire on college education, written in slang, was published when she was 24. She then wrote two light novels, illustrated by T. Osglow, drawer of The Little King; Live With a Husband and Like It; and Brides Are Like New Shoes (They Have to Be Broken In). Gold, Sweat, and Sin is her elev-

A Night With The Lions Club

By MURREY WIGHT

Last Tuesday night this temporary newspaper reporter had the privilege of attending the Carmel Lions' club dinner and meeting which was held as usual at the Mission Ranch Barn.

Upon arriving at the "banquet hall" I was greeted by Cliff Cook, who was my host for the evening. I was treated to coke, then spent the next ten minutes shaking hands with several of the members.

I was then ushered into the dining room where, after completing a "roast beef" dinner, a round of songs was sung by the members and guests, accompanied by the piano, saxophone, and a slightly "off key" trumpet.

Then President Fred Goss got down to business by reading a letter from other Lions Club executives who were sending donations to the Lions Club families of Texas City, who had lost their homes in the recent explosion. It was voted that the Carmel club would donate $25 for this worthy cause.

Upon completion of the serious business, came a part of the program that was of lighter nature: the drawing of lots for the prize of the evening, which turned out to be a bottle of Four Roses whisky. Then "Ernie" Morehouse, after making an amusing introductory speech, presented Joe Guston with his membership pin.

The program was then turned over to Lion Hillyer who gave a short talk and introduced the guest speaker of the evening, General Lauer, who is at present a resident in Carmel. General Lauer's talk was about Germany and a few of the problems our occupational forces are faced with today. The General has become an authority on Germany through his experience there during both the first and second World Wars. He has been acquainted with German families since 1910 and he respects them highly, but for those who have absorbed the Nazi doctrine the General has the utmost contempt. The plight of displaced persons, the joining of the four occupation zones enth book and, from the little I heard of it, may well be a best seller.

Children Should Find Own Interests M. H. Group Decides

Members of the local Mental Hygiene Society and other interested persons gathered Monday night at the El Estero U. S. O. in Monterey, where a roundtable of eight speakers considered the question, How Can We Keep Our Wits in Today's World? Speakers of the roundtable included Calvin Cope, principal of the Pacific Grove Adult School; Mrs. Charles Simpson, Nelson Sewell, W. B. Laurence of the Veterans Administration, Dr. P. Bates, Miss Eleanor Chamberline, Mrs. Elizabeth Hill, and John C. Kelly.

It was said that children in the elementary grades should be encouraged to form interests of their own. If the parents endeavor to influence their children too strongly, the children are apt to become confused and develop distorted ideas as they mature. It was pointed out that life itself is a chance, and that the parents as well as the children should be educated concerning the necessity of acquiring good mental health.—Carla George, Senior.

SPRING CONCERT

Carmel High School will present its first annual spring concert Friday night, May 16. It will be held in the High School Cafeteria at 8 p. m. The concert numbers will be performed by organized music groups from the high school as well as the high school orchestra and there will also be vocal solos.

This is the first of its kind and the school hopes that it will become a tradition.

and the ultimate fate of Germany were also features of General Lauer's talk. Afterwards he answered questions put to him by the audience.

The meeting ended with the singing of God Bless America and, though the bachelors of the group remained, most of the others went home to their families.

Bechdolt Says Carmel Writers Shouldn't Stay Here Too Long

said that you have to know about people—all kinds—and write about them. He gained his knowledge of human nature everywhere—driving dogs during the "Gold Rush" in Alaska, working underground with tough miners and working on newspapers. He stressed the point that young writers should knock around and not stick in one place. "Carmel writers are in a good atmosphere but they shouldn't stay here all the time since they might get a poverty of atmosphere, and lose interest in humanity in general."

Most writers are newspapermen because they have learned to concentrate in order to meet deadlines, and good writing requires concentration.

His youthful spirit was very evident, and his eyes sparkled with enthusiasm. The interview seemed to give him as much pleasure (I hope) as it did me.

ing such things. The kids feel that they do not have to do what they have been told, if they are not given a reason.

When kids have done something, no matter how right or how wrong it may be, the kids are always guilty until they have been proven innocent. If the parents trusted their children enough they would not feel this way.

The solution of this problem may be reached by giving more education for future parents, so that the parents may guide and train their children to become better citizens.—Eleanor Bannerman.

CHINESE BALLET

Mei Lan-Fang's celebrated Chinese Ballet and Mandarin Orchestra, which will play Sunset Auditorium, Carmel, Saturday night, May 3, at 8:30, was acclaimed by the New York critics and public as the finest Oriental attraction since Lady Precious Stream and The Lute Song. The company comes here direct from the Belasco Theatre, New York, under the management of Miss Averil Tam, narrator and founder. Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, Leopold Stokowski, Pearl Buck, Gertrude Lawrence, Mary Martin, Maurice Chevalier, Lin Yutang and other notables are on the sponsors' committee of the tour.

The program features Sword Dance of Yu Chi, from Peiping's favorite Chu ballet, Murder in the Dark, historical tragedy (in ballet form) of the wicked Three Forked Inn on the Mongolian border, the comic Monkey Dance from the Happy Dragon ballet, Scarf Dance, hit of the original Pear Orchard operetta, the Hot Wine scene from Harvest Moon ballet, River of Dreams, and Moon Magic. All were staged and magnificently costumed by Mei Lan-Fang, noted Chinese actor and choreographer.

"Fast moving pageant scores hit," said Time magazine. "Fine entertainment, elegantly mounted," commented the New York Times. "Made international stage history," said the New York Journal American.

Gardenia Chang, Meki Kwan, Ju Chien-fee, Kwan Hung-ping and Sung Yue-tuh are featured players who perform to the accompaniment of the pi-pa (lute), ti-tzu (flutes), yang ching (butterfly harp), shao na (Mongolian oboe), yueh chin (moon guitar), erh-hu (two string Manchu violin), nao (cymbals), chiu yin lo (nine brass gongs), taku (great drum) and other native instruments, some of which are over 2,000 years old.

FARM TROUBLES

Once my uncle and I were mowing hay. We were cutting a rough field. We no sooner got on top of a mound than we were in a hole. Suddenly we hit a rock and I fell off the mower. That rock broke off four teeth on the sickle.

Just then three cows broke through the fence and started to eat the cut hay and we had to get them out.

That night all twenty-eight cows broke out of their pasture. It was nine o'clock at night before we got them into the barn for milking. Our troubles weren't over for even then some cows broke into the grain room and ate a lot of our stored grain. —David King, Miss Norman's Sixth Grade.

PEARL HARBOR

It was Sunday afternoon, and the cool ocean breeze was soft and quiet. Suddenly the hum of airplanes grew louder and louder; there was a crash, a boom, and it was silent. Over and over the crashes repeated. Windows were pushed up, doors opened wide, and wondering people came out of houses and scanned the sky. The hum grew louder; the people ducked back into their houses. A sudden rat-tat-tat pushed the few remaining people back into the houses.

People wondered, "What is this? Is it war?" Radios clicked on and people listened intently... "THIS WAS WAR!"

People hid in the woods, and trucks came to take other frightened people away to greater safety. This was WAR! This was December 7, 1941.—Paige Cubbison, Miss Staffebach's Fifth Grade.

(Note: Paige was one of those who witnessed the attack on Pearl Harbor that fateful day in 1941. She is now returning to Pearl Harbor to be with her father, Col. Cubbison, who is again stationed there.

Van Dorn Moves To New City Hall

The floor boards of the old city hall creaked and groaned under the massive weight of the safe as it was dragged over them and slowly lowered down the stairs Thursday afternoon. The ten-year-old Van Dorn vault, which had peacefully stood in its niche in the wall, maintaining a watchful guard over the vital papers of Carmel City, was being moved to a better home in the new city hall.

Van Dorn led a quiet life the half score years he resided in the upstairs office next to the police station. There were no disturbances, and his job was very uneventful. No valuable papers were stolen, nor was even an attempt made at burglary; no fires threatened to melt his 6-inch thick hide. The closest he ever came to any excitement was when they were moving him and his heavy body tended to cave in the floor boards.

After he is installed in his new room, and has a chance to recuperate from the unfamiliar exercise he got from moving, he'll go back to his distinguished occupation of guarding the city's documents.

Carmel Woods Property Owners Favor Joining Sanitary District

On Monday evening the city council rooms were packed to the doors as interested property owners in Carmel Woods met to discuss the problem of sanitation. At the present time no one is responsible for the maintenance of the existing sewer lines and equipment. An increased number of homes to be built, along with a wet winter, could wreck havoc with the existing system, unless definite provision is made for maintenance.

The property owners have two alternatives, either to join the Carmel Sanitary District or to form their own district. Corum Jackson of Carmel Realty Company, and Hugh Comstock, president of the Carmel Sanitary Board, presented the possible choices.

If the area were joined to the Carmel District, the present lines in the Woods could be utilized by joining them to the Carmel mains and thus employing Carmel's efficient disposal plant on the river. Provision could be made to service those lots in the Woods not at present accessible to sewer lines.

The other alternative would be the forming of an independent sanitary district for the Carmel Woods area. The suggested $100,000 minimum cost seemed to make this an unpopular choice with the property owners present Monday night.

Under the plan for joining the Carmel District the estimated cost per lot would likely average $200, although Mr. Comstock pointed out that no definite costs could be stated until engineering surveys were made. However, even this cost per lot would be doubled were it not for a vast network of existing mains and laterals in the Woods.

The unanimous expression of approval for joining the Carmel Sanitary District was indicated by those present in the council rooms. However, the petitions for admission to the Carmel District must be signed by property owners representing 75 percent of the assessed valuation of the area. These are now being circulated. If successfully signed, the petitions can be acted upon by the Sanitary Board at their May 5 meeting.

Colorful America Slides Are Now in Library Of Congress

In the November, 1946, issue of the Library of Congress Quarterly Journal of Current Acquisitions appears the following item:

"Mr. C. Edward Graves of Carmel, California, formerly librarian of Humboldt State College, Arcata, California, has deposited permanently two sets of color transparencies entitled Mount Shasta and The Three Sisters Region of the Oregon Cascades, which represent the beginning of his project of recording in color the scenery and natural history of the mountain and desert regions of our country. The slides, which are of exceptional artistic merit, are accompanied by descriptive text and by Mr. Graves' personal journal of experiences while taking the photographs."

Since then Mr. Graves has deposited three more sets, one on Grand Canyon National Park, one on Zion National Park and one on Bryce Canyon National Park. The project is known as Colorful America, and reproductions of these and other slides have been placed on the market under that name.

Personality Plus

By Joy Westcott, Junior

For those who believe that all high school fellows and girls are a uniform bunch of inconsiderate and careless kids, I want to recommend Personality Plus by Sheila John Daly. Miss Daly has come to the defense of the teen-agers by cleverly presenting their problems with possible solutions.

The average adult believes that Frank Sinatra, cokes and Saturday night dates are the only interests of a typical teen-ager. Movies, newspapers and magazines have discussed the delinquency of modern youth again and again. Stories and the radio have portrayed the high school student as scatter-brained and totally ignorant of world problems. Of course, the movies, magazines, and polls are partially right. The guys and gals do like plaid shirts, double dating, and high school fun; however, they will do a little serious thinking and discussing of things like the atomic era, South American relations, jet propulsion, and our future world.

Sheila John Daly, the author of Personality Plus, is just seventeen. She knows that the process of becoming a well-balanced adult is a difficult and important one for us. Her book was written in order to make that process seem easier. Personality Plus gives advice and tips on being a good sport, a good friend, a good conversationalist, a good hostess, or guest; on dating; on how to get more out of school; how to acquire better manners; and how to choose a career. In short, the book is filled with excellent suggestions for making the most of your personality and life as a whole.

In all the years of life, none are so full of adventure, excitement, fun, challenge, opportunity, zest for doing and being as the years spent in school. To obtain the most from these years, anxieties, fears, superstitions and misinformation must be cleared away. Confidence and understanding must take their place.

Personality Plus should be interesting reading for adults and teen-agers alike, as it should serve to bring about closer relations and better understanding.

John Blinks Wins Hollywood Trip

John Blinks from Carmel High School left Monday morning on his trip to Hollywood. He was awarded the trip when he and Henry Leighton of Monterey defeated the other contestants in the Quiz of the Schools sponsored by KDON.

They were guests on two national radio programs, Hearts-Desire, and Queen for a Day. In return, they presented the two radio shows with a box of frozen fish and a box of artichokes from the Monterey and Salinas Chambers of Commerce, respectively.

Mrs. L. R. Blinks, Mrs. Lawrence Leighton, and Miss E. J. Peterson accompanied the winners.

Where Does The Telephone Strike Stand Today?

Because you, as a telephone user, have an important stake in the issues, we'd like to give some straight answers to questions you may have about the strike situation up to date.

1. Why is there a telephone strike?

The Unions made large demands. We could not agree to these demands but offered to extend contracts while bargaining continued. But the unions refused. We then offered to arbitrate the basic issue, wages. The unions again refused and went out on strike.

2. What are the unions demanding?

They are demanding scores of changes in contracts which would, if granted, amount to an increase of more than $100,000,000 a year in the cost of telephone service.

This amount is five times our 1946 earnings. It would make our payroll alone larger than all the money we took in last year.

3. What do these demands mean to telephone users?

The Union demands equal $45 per year added to each telephone bill . . . A 40 per cent increase in all telephone rates.

4. How well are telephone employees paid now?

Studies show telephone wages are in line with those paid for other jobs on the Coast requiring similar skill and training . . . Telephone wage rates now average 58 per cent above the 1941 level.

Here are typical examples—

Operators—Even a girl right out of school starts at a basic rate of $30 a week while learning—in small towns, $28 to $29.

Actual earnings are higher due to overtime and premium pay. There are frequent pay raises, too. At the end of the first year the new operator can be earning over $1900 a year. A supervising operator can earn over $2700 per year working a 5-day week.

Plant maintenance men—Actual earnings of many experienced men last year were more than $5,000.

The basic rate for inexperienced men is $34 at the start and scales up to $72. Overtime and premium pay are in addition.

5. What other benefits do employees get?

Among other extra advantages are paid vacations up to three weeks depending on length of service . . . Holidays with pay . . . Sickness and death benefits . . . Pensions . . . Good working conditions. And telephone work is steady work . . . The kind a person can count on.

6. Why can't the company agree to union demands?

Wages and other costs of service are paid by the people who use the telephone. We can't give blanket agreement to the Unions' huge demands because we cannot justify them to our customers who pay the bill.

7. How has the company tried to end the strike?

We wanted to extend the liberal working contracts while bargaining continued. But the Unions refused. We repeatedly offered to submit the wage question . . . the basic issue . . . to arbitration. But the Unions continue to refuse.

We have offered the Unions a practical plan to settle the strike . . . A plan that is fair equally to our employees, investors, and customers.

8. When will the strike be over?

We don't know. But we believe that no matter how long the strike lasts, it is in the public interest to face it rather than to capitulate to the Unions' huge demands which would require large increases in telephone rates.

Meanwhile we will continue to do our best to handle your calls.

Calls from dial to dial telephones, which make up the bulk of calls in many cities, are completed without interruption. Many calls which require the service of an operator are also being completed.

Many Telephone Company people are working days and nights on strenuous shifts to keep service going. They have been joined by many others who put the public interest first. We appreciate this loyalty.

We wish to thank the public for their helpful cooperation during this troublesome period.

Fiction, Non-Fiction Often Blend, Says Mrs. Dan Hammack

On Monday afternoon the Book Section of the Carmel Woman's Club met under the chairmanship of Mrs. H. S. Upjohn. The guest speaker was Mrs. Dan Hammack, who recently returned from a lengthy stay in Pasadena.

Under the interesting sub-titles of The Winter's Tales and The Winter's Truths, Mrs. Hammack dealt with fiction and non-fiction respectively.

Among the many novels she presented was John P. Marquand's B. F.'s Daughter. Here Mr. Marquand follows his usual technique of having no villains and, though his "hero" was a woman, he once more made his men seem to matter most. His extensive use of clichés and the mixing of past and present narration are very noticeable.

In non-fiction, Mrs. Hammack spoke highly of Ferris Greenslet's The Lowells and Their Seven Worlds, a work of great research into the history of this New England family, written with impeccable taste.

In closing Mrs. Hammack pointed out how difficult it is to classify all books as fiction or non-fiction, as many are a little of each; for instance, The Egg and I is non-fiction, though some of the author's neighbors took action against her for writing things about them which they said were fictional.

Mrs. Hammack ended with a happy reference to Carmel, to which she adapted lines from Shakespeare's A Winter's Tale:
The climate's delicate; the air most sweet;
Fertile the valley; the town much surpassing
The common praise it bears.

After the lecture, refreshments were served by the day's hostesses. Special interest was shown in a Charles Dickens teapot, belonging to Mrs. Upjohn, and in Ruskin's mother's teapot, brought by the lecturer.—Hillary Carnson, Sophomore.

BACK AT WORK

Miss Frances White, a service representative of the telephone company, who has been ill since January, is now back at work.

JEEP TROUBLES

On April 20, a car driven by Mrs. P. Haley of Salinas, California, and a jeep driven by Eric Otto of Carmel, collided on the corner of Ninth and Dolores streets. Both cars were damaged, and the two drivers were taken to the Community Hospital. Eric Otto was released after receiving first aid treatment. Dick Gargiulo was a passenger in the jeep but was not injured.

Education Is Way To World Peace, Says Mrs. H. P. Russell

Mrs. H. P. Russell, advisor to the American delegation of United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization, voiced a conviction that world peace can be attained by the advancement of culture and education. Her address, in the Sunset auditorium on April 20, was spoken well, and she held the attention of the audience.

Mrs. Russell said that the UNESCO has planned to encourage understanding and education among children of all nations by a communication program with the United States and twenty-six other countries.

In the plea for peace, Mrs. Russell said that the youth of America could play a large and important part.—Peggy Riker.

Dorita And Valero Win Hearty Approval Of Carmel Audience

By ANN FRATESSA

Last Saturday night at Sunset auditorium Dorita and Valero entertained an enthusiastic audience with their interpretations of classical and popular Spanish dances. Mr. A. Thevenet, at the piano, cleverly created the mood for each offering. With skill and zest the artists danced their way into the hearts of the audience. Their bright picturesque costumes represented those of the different parts of Spain from which they took their dances. The costumes were expertly designed and added to the color of the selections.

With stamping heels and clicking castanets Dorita and Valero transported the onlookers to a Spanish fiesta where they flirted and quarrelled, sang and danced in various moods. Dorita played a guitar and Mr. Thevenet entertained with a piano solo. All of the numbers were well selected, but the audience took the greatest delight in the dances entitled Los Cuatros Muleros and Jota Argonesa. Dorita and Valero sang as well as danced. Their singing brought hearty applause from their responsive audience.

TODAY I AM A MAN—ALMOST

BY PAUL WARNER, JUNIOR

The sun streaked through the window and filled my room with a pleasant glow. I lay back in my bed, peacefully gazing at the pines swaying gently in the breeze; at the clouds rolling lazily along the sky. It looked like the beginning of a perfect day.

Suddenly, I jumped out of bed, rushed to the mirror and peered at myself. I blinked. I looked again. It was true! Last night it looked like a shadow, but in the daylight I could see it. My chin had sprouted some straggly bristles. I had a "beard!"

With all that growth on my chin, no wonder it had felt so heavy. I stroked them tenderly. How distinguished I looked standing before the mirror in my pajamas. Boy! Would the kids be surprised and jealous. "I guess I'll show 'em who is the man around here," I thought.

I began to dress, pausing every few seconds to admire the few tufts of fuzz that skimpishly covered my chin. Hopping down the stairs to breakfast, I held my head high and my chin out.

"John!" I jumped. It was my mother.

"John, you march right back upstairs and wash your face. It's dirty under the chin."

"But mother," I said, trying unsuccessfully to hide my pride, "that's not dirt. That's my new beard." I went over to the light so she could see it.

Just then my father came into the room. He took one look, and smiling faintly, said, "Well, son, I guess you'll have to start shaving."

"Oh, no, dad. I'm going to grow a beard."

"You certainly are not!" The smile was gone. "I won't have any son of mine trying to show the world that he's grown up just because he has a few hairs hanging from his chin. When you get out from under my roof and prove that you're a man by earning your own living, then you can cultivate a beard. Now get up there and shave 'em off."

I turned and slowly climbed the stairs. Father's shaving gear was still laid out. I filled the basin, lathered my face, and dejectedly picked up the razor. Once more I looked at my chin in the mirror. The few hairs that poked out through the soap drooped a little.

Viciously, I gripped the razor and started scraping. A few quick swipes, and my beard was gone. Seeing my shining chin smooth again, I suddenly felt a great relief. I realized I had shaved off more than my beard. With it had gone all the responsibilities and worries that go with being a man. I was glad to be rid of it. I was a boy once more. Besides, it had begun to itch.

SIXTEEN

BY SUSAN MOORE, JUNIOR

Sixteen—that dreamed-of age when life suddenly bursts forth from childish conceptions to full, mature out-looks and ideas! An age of excitement, romance, heartache, and disappointment.

Fashion designers strive to create clothes sophisticated enough to suit this teen-ager, and youthful enough to please mother; magazines are filled with escapades of these unpredictable creatures; Miss Sub-Deb is no longer interested in little girl enjoyments. She now sighs over Van Johnson, dreams about a new strapless formal, and fills her diary with confidential accounts of her first dates.

When Junior reaches this stage of life, he procures a driver's license, and Dad finds himself confronted with the problem of a disappearing family car.

Along with the carefree existence maintained by these teen-agers, is an honest and sincere desire to succeed, and, in some particular field, make their contribution to society.

But we ask ourselves, "What is so spectacular about being sixteen?"

"Spectacular? Why, nothing. Nothing at all."

CARMEL MISSION

*Do phantom shades of holy fathers flit
Noiseless through the ruined mission grounds?
In cloister and chapel an echo resounds.
The silence is shattered and the darkness is lit
By the memory of ancient psalms once sung
In the fitful light of the crescent moon.
Is it age or decade that fled so soon?
Is it aeon or instant since bells were rung?
Do visionary shadows yet haste to prayer
And kneel submissive 'mid grassy mounds
And crumbling arches abounding there?
Or do spirits sleep careless of all sounds,
Leaving mortals to meet their mysterious fate,
While they their advent to heaven await?*

THE IDEAL TEACHER

*She taught man when he first knew wind's chill
And she's willingly teaching him still.
You might think her different from the teachers you know
For she's all around you wherever you go.
Her dress is of flowers and her face is the sky;
Her hair is the sea and the river nearby.
She's a fountain of knowledge that will not run dry
For those who want it, and are willing to try.
For who could outrank each wonderful feature
Of Mother Nature, The Ideal Teacher?*

Over tops of the rolling hills,
Humming birds sing their buzzing songs,
Robins gather 'round the trees in throngs!*

*The stream is bubbling along its way,
God should be proud of this wonderful day.
The wind is blowing the trees and grass,
It tangles it up in many a mass!*

The beautiful birds here and there are darting,
The clouds are drifting in skies so clear,
All these are signs that spring is here.*

*When the moon rises over the hills,
Down at the ocean a big wave spills,
It rears and roars all over the beach
As though grabbing at something within its reach.
It wails and cries, and by and by Reaches upwards towards the moon in the sky.*

TEEN AGE CUSTOMS

BY ANNE FRATESSA, SOPHOMORE

May I introduce Joe, a typical teen-ager? His most lovable characteristics are his mode of dress and his manner of speaking in monosyllables. His shirt tail hangs out, his loafers need polish, and his "butch" haircut is startling. Joe wears his shirt tail out because his friends do and his friends do because it's more comfortable that way.

Joe starts the school day by sleeping until the last possible moment, dressing hastily and grabbing an orange on his way out the front door. Arriving at school he is still sleepy and often takes cat naps during the first two or three classes. Lunch is the bright spot of the day. Joe eats like a horse, but consumes twice as much in a shorter time. The afternoon classes go quickly and at the final bell Joe dashes to his locker, dumps his books, and heads for that lovable pile of junk, affectionately known as his "hot rod." Then Joe eats again, anything from "coke," the all time favorite, to a double banana split, a hamburger, and a soda. The inner man replenished, Joe seats himself in his "hot rod," where he is king. He prowls around the main street, does a few errands and goes home. Tonight there are guests for dinner, so Joe must put on an uncomfortable white shirt and comb his hair. He puts on a good act for the dinner guests but he feels stiff and ill at ease. After dinner he excuses himself and goes to the corner drugstore to be with the gang. There he is the life of the party. He dances, talks, works out new football plays and best of all, he eats.

Eventually Joe goes home to struggle with The Raven and a few Spanish words. But most of all he goes home to sleep and eat. In spite of his odd ways, Joe is alert and useful. He keeps his "hot rod" running and he passed his aptitude test with an "A" rating. NATCH!!!

ACCIDENTS

BY PENNY BESTOR, GRADE 6

There is a great puzzle confronting our United States today. It is the problem of accidents. The motorcycle police are on the job every minute of the day and night. On almost every hill there is a motorcycle policeman to help you prevent accidents. The hospitals have more patients than they can hold. Many times people come upon one car that has crashed into another car, and a pale child lying on a stretcher, a cruel gash across her face. A faint woman weeping in her grief and sorrow. A cripple crawling out of the wreck, with a person almost dead from the crash.

Yes, the modern puzzle is not a nice one, and to stop these accidents we must be careful when driving a car or walking.

CONSERVATION

BY JOYCE MORRIS, GRADE 7

The lumber supply of the United States is greatly endangered by careless cutting. Many years ago great forests covered the whole country but since then lumber companies have cut down so many trees that if it keeps up the whole supply will soon be gone.

The United States Forestry Service is trying to save the trees by teaching the value they have. Not only for furniture and household articles, but for preserving the water supply. However, over three-fourths of the nation's forests are privately owned and the owners want only money. Some people do not care about preserving trees, their only interest is in cutting them down.

Lumbering alone is not the reason for the great reduction of our forests. Insects, diseases and forest fires also cause destruction. Over ninety-five per cent of our nation's forest fires are caused by people. Automobiles and trucks backfire and cause some and also lightning, but the conservation of our trees depends largely upon the people.

Carlos The Horse-fly or Carlos The Bull-fly

—LINOLEUM BLOCK BY NANCY KRUPOCKI, GRADE 7

By Kurt von Meier, Grade 7

I will begin this story, as all stories must have a beginning, at the beginning.

Once upon a time there was an egg, a very small egg. Inside that egg was Carlos. Well, not exactly Carlos because he wasn't born yet, but after he was born, sure enough, it was Carlos.

Now Carlos, even though he was a horse-fly, was not a horse-fly. He was a bull-fly. He was a small bull-fly because he did not get enough "vitamin F." All flies that have not enough vitamin F are undernourished so they are pushed out of the way by bigger flies. Carlos was pushed out of the way.

He never had a chance to sting El Toro de la Comisso, the biggest, maddest, fiercest, fightingest, killingest bull in all Mexico, which is where Carlos lived. Only the biggest flies with the strongest, stingiest stingers would have this grand privilege.

Carlos went through life stinging calm, sweet, melancholy, loving, dainty bulls who would not even flip their tails when stung. But El Toro de la Comisso! He would snort fire! He would give a fierce lunge at the fence. He would stare with fiery eyes and beat the dirt with steel-edged hooves.

Today was the day! El Toro de la Comisso was going to be fought by the greatest matador in all Mexico, Carlos Sanchez. Carlos, the fly, was going to watch the fight as usual, too. Imagine, two Carloses in the same ring! The clock struck the hour. It was time. The gates were open and Carlos Sanchez was out in the ring ready for El Toro de la Comisso. He, El Toro, came rushing down the runway underneath the stands for the bulls who were going to fight, snorting, panting and pawing the cement floor. Carlos Sanchez was waving his brilliant red cape violently. El Toro de la Comisso came rushing toward the ring but he did not get very far because just as he was about to rush out into the arena the gates were slammed shut.

The picador, Alvarado Cortez by name, was not ready. He, the greatest picador in Mexico was not in the ring. What was the reason?

For inquisitive readers, he was having trouble with his wig! Here he comes now. He is waddling out into the ring in his best manner and the girls are throwing buttercups to him. He is going over to the gate. Is he going to open the gate himself? Carlos Sanchez calls to him. He turns around. He backs up to the gate and is stuck by a pair of horns sticking through the gate and out comes a blood-curdling yelp of pain! Yes, the horns belong to El Toro de la Comisso. El Toro was going so fast when he hit the gate that his horns went right through it and stuck. Everyone tried to push El Toro's horns through the gate, but in vain. Then, out of a clear blue sky, came Carlos, the bull-fly. With his mighty stinger, he stung! The bull went rushing into the arena but soon collapsed because of the mighty sting. Yes, little Carlos, our own little Carlos, has killed the bull that was the greatest bull in all Mexico, El Toro de la Comisso.

We love 'em in December as we do in May

REMEMBER the day you first romped away in that Buick of yours? How those eight Fireball cylinders fairly floated you over the hills—how those road-steady two tons of lively car answered sweetly every light touch of your hand on the wheel—how you glided along with foursquare BuiCoil springing smoothing every wrinkle in the road?

That's what your Buick was built to do. Years and years of that kind of driving are in it—especially when it gets the interested, informed car care this fine an automobile should have.

That doesn't mean just periodic lubrication, a body wash, battery check or bolt-tighten. It means thorough attention by competent Buick men—attention that keeps a Buick always a Buick.

Buicks are our babies. Even the smallest details are handled the way they should be for a Buick. We have Buick tools that do jobs better and quicker. We have men who know Buicks best. We have Buick-engineered parts that are precisely right for your car.

Put that all together and it's Buick car care.

Pretty clear, isn't it, that here is where your Buick will receive the best attention? After all, we love 'em heart and soul.

"TOP" SECRET

One of the things that play a part in Fireball snap is Buick's wafer-thin steel cylinder gasket. Just 15 thousandths of an inch thick, it's a "must" for the high compression this powerful straight-eight is designed for. Other kinds that are thicker cut down the compression and the car's liveliness.

In carbon and valve jobs, or any other where this gasket must be replaced, only this Buick gasket will assure the fit Buick engineers intended. No wise Buick owner would have any other in his engine.

Just another example of how you get more for your money—in major adjustments, tune-ups, lubrication or anything your car needs—when you make sure it gets Buick car care.

The following citations are included in the sermon:

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Death will occur on the next plane of existence as on this, until the spiritual understanding of Life is reached. Then, and not until then, will it be demonstrated that 'the second death hath no power'" (p. 77).

Yesterday we went to the beach. We dug a great big hole with a great big shovel. I found some sand crabs; they dig under the wet sand. Then the water came up and filled the hole—I got all wet—then the water disappeared.

Saturday night I dreamt the Easter Bunny came to our house. He hopped through our house, climbed out our attic window and hid an Easter egg on the roof!

We also saw a big rock with a hole in it.

We went up a big hill. We went around a turn. It was so steep that I was afraid to go around it.

When we got to Colorado we saw some deaf and dumb ladies. They were waving their hands. Mother said they were talking with their hands.

On our trip we got into a hail storm and two snow storms.

—Sylvia Glem.

One Sunday night I got on a train. I was going to California. As the train started my aunt waved goodbye.

On the way I saw cowboys and cowgirls. I went through the Rocky Mountains. One tunnel took ten minutes to go through.

One night the train stopped suddenly and I almost fell out of the upper berth. The next morning my toe was sticking out of the curtain.

When we went from car to car I was afraid that the part that holds the cars together would break.

The train stopped six hours in Denver for a new engine. While we were in Denver I saw some Indians.

I had a lot of fun on the train. I met a little girl. Her name was Sharon. We played together.

When we got to Oakland we took a ferry boat to San Francisco. On the way over I got cold. Then we went to Berkeley and stayed for two weeks. Then I came to Carmel.—Priscilla Butler.

On March 19 Miss Morrow took us on a bird walk. We went down to the Mission Ranch. We saw humming birds, linnets and other birds. When we got back we decided to make a border for our room. So the next day when we went to art class we made a border with two trees on it, and in the middle a tree in blossom. All the children in the room made birds and the border is very colorful.

Some friends, who have a cabin just 45 miles from Redding, California, invited our family to go there with them for our vacation.

We found snow and had many interesting snow fights which gave us a different kind of fun than we have ever had.

In taking trips from the cabin, we saw Mt. Shasta and Mt. Lassen, and we went to the Shasta Dam where the Sacramento River begins. The reservoir can hold water to a depth of five hundred and ten feet, but the water was only up to the four hundred and fifteen foot line so there is much room for more storage use for summer. Electric power is to be generated for use, also.

Our trip was a grand success, and I learned much about our class study of California.

There's a new baby at my house. Her name is Pamela. I think she is the cutest baby in the whole wide world.

She has a big head and such tiny feet, her eyes are blue, cheeks are rosy, and her hair is light brown. She sometimes sticks her tongue out, by mistake.

Easter Sunday we took some moving pictures of her, she put her fingers in her mouth and looked coy.

One day when I went into her room it sounded like she said "hello."—Bonny Lynn Redhead.

Staffebach's fifth grade. It was a special treat because she taught the fourth grade at Sunset School last year.

She now lives in Lovelock, Nevada, a small town near Reno. For a while she taught in the Lovelock school. She said there were about 300 children in the school. They do not have science, health, or physical Education. The school is a two story brick building with no clocks in the rooms. They have two 15 minute recesses and one hour for lunch. For the entire school they have only one play field about the size of our middle playfield, one kickball, one baseball, one bat, one football and one basketball. They don't have after school sports. They do not have any class or student body government, no movies, nor any of the special things we have at Sunset. Their report card is not like ours, but just has "S" and "U" for satisfactory and unsatisfactory.

We were very glad to see Mrs. Evans again, but glad that we get to go to a school like Sunset.

—Pat Finley.

Last week when I was at Saboba Hot Springs, I went, or rather tried to go swimming in the pool there. I asked my father to come along to teach me how to swim. After getting into the pool I practiced kicking my legs till I knew just how to do it. Then a man came along and told me to paddle along with my arms and to kick with my legs; so I tried it. I gradually started to sink until finally I was at the bottom of the pool. When I came up again, I had water in my nose and mouth. Then I went home and took a shower. Guess I'll learn to swim another day.—Pauline Gonzales.

WHO SAID THE DEL MONTE FOREST WAS A SUBURB OF CARMEL, MONTEREY AND PACIFIC GROVE?

Frankly, it doesn't matter, because the statement is quite true! Many people live and play inside the Forest and go every day (or almost every day) to their businesses in Monterey, Carmel and Pacific Grove.

They live in the Forest because most people down here like the "feel" of country, they love the unsurpassing beauty, peace and charm of the region; they like the protection that the toll gates afford; the hundreds of miles of private roads and trails, the beaches, the parks and every facility for sports. Also, you know, residents of the Forest have preferential rates on the golf course and receive preference both in membership and in dues at the Racquet Club and the Monterey Peninsula Country Club.

No wonder, then, that long time residents of Pacific Grove, of Monterey and of Carmel are more and more moving to the Del Monte Forest to live. Land values are modest, choice sites as low as $1,500, and all the essential utilities are supplied.

Either see your broker or call Monterey 3111 today and ask for the "Real Estate Office." They will see to it that a representative calls at once and shows you the land. There's no obligation of course.

Trouble just thought it was playing. When it struck out at her and bit her she remembered a word of warning her mother had once given her. She had said, "If you ever see a long thing with a rattle on the end, go away from it as fast as you can. It is a rattlesnake and one of the many dangerous snakes in the world." Trouble remembered her warning too late. She knew the only thing to do was to go straight home.

She ran as fast as she could until she got home. Mother Cat met her at the door and knew something was wrong immediately. When she found out what had happened, she got out some magic herbs. She placed them over the bite and slowly the herbs drew the poison out. The next day Trouble was so quiet and nice the people wondered what had happened. Later on they changed her name to Peaceful. They never found out what happened, but we know.

Dan's Troubles

By Paula Schneeberger

(Orville Rogers' Seventh Grade)

Dan opened the door after the doorbell rang. It was a courteous boy from the department store. He had a parcel for Dan. The parcel had great depth. Dan paid the messenger and went to open the package. He took off the cardboard and saw that the package was gift-wrapped in a paper with a novel design. It was the prettiest paper he had seen in his section of the city. He called his wife to assist him in opening the parcel. She didn't answer. He called again. He was confident that she was in the next room because he had seen her before the doorbell had rung. He began to worry so he went into the next room and found it empty. He rushed to the police headquarters to inquire in regard to her disappearance.

All of a sudden he remembered the package. He rushed home to find it missing. He hurried back to police headquarters and reported the loss. There was a gradual slowing down in his pace because he had been rushing back and forth so much. This time the police inspector said, "I recommend that you go to the Department of Missing Persons. Maybe you'll accomplish something."

Dan rushed to the Department of Missing Persons. However he didn't receive a bit of help. On the way into the house, what did he see but the package waiting by the door. He rushed into his house with the parcel, determined not to venture out of the house without opening the package. He opened it and inside there was a vase with a picture of the Statue of Liberty on one side and the Washington Monument on the other side and in the vase was a note that said, "We will release your wife if you give us this vase which is an original copy of the one on President Truman's desk." Signed, the Gray Brothers.

Dan rushed to the address that the Gray brothers had given, but the police had arrived before him and had captured them. Dan saw his wife and brought her home. Then his wife tripped over the vase that Dan had left on the floor and there it lay. It was broken. It was the only thing besides his wife, to remind him of the memorable experience.

Everywhere children wish they didn't have to go to school. It would be simple to celebrate and ditch school, but always afterwards they must explain. If they are lucky their folks might be in good humor. Maybe they know how you feel and treat you to an ice cream soda at the fountain if you promise to be a little lady or gentleman, and not do it again.

Saturdays are fun, no school. You and your neighbor go to the theater or amuse yourself trying to play golf. Afterwards there is always ice cream to satisfy yourself. So everything turns out all right (except our report cards.)

Wednesday, April 9, three forest rangers came to school and talked to us about forests. Then they showed a movie about the destruction of forests and how it could be stopped. It was in technicolor and was very interesting.

After the movie one of the rangers answered questions the children asked.

One of the questions asked was whether or not people might catch diseases from trees? The ranger said he did not know of any tree disease that people could catch.

Someone then asked what they did with diseased trees and he said that they cut them down and burned them because they could destroy whole forests.

They did not have much time for many questions as they had a film for the third and fourth graders and then they had to go on to another school.

We were glad they came, and enjoyed the movie and explanations.—Allene Knight.

By MARY GREGORY

The ever-popular Junior-Senior Prom will be especially wonderful this year, for after years of war restrictions it can again be held at the Monterey County Club. Tomorrow night is the night, Ernie Scully's is the orchestra, and 40 juniors and seniors and their dates will be the lucky guests.

The prom is given each year by the junior class to the seniors; this year Betty Plaxton, Peggy Riker, Becky Bell, Jan Masten, Bob Barry, and John Blinks, with Mrs. Elise Beaton, their sponsor, are the ones responsible for its success.

Speaking of class activities, the senior play, June Mad, is coming along swimmingly; a preview of the play the other night was definite assurance that the final production on Friday evening, May 9, should not be missed.

The cast includes Mary McElroy as Penny Wood; Robert Jensen as Chuck Harris; Joan Carr as Mrs. Wood; Bud Pitman as Elmer Tuttle; Bill Herlihy as Dr. Wood; Teddy Greene as Effie; Sue Douglas as Milly Lou; Jim Snavey as G. Mervyn Roberts; Perry Brown as Roger van Vleck; Pat Bullard as Shirley Wentworth; Bill Sapsis as Rolph Wentworth; and Lorraine Harris as Julie Harris.

The production staff includes Rosemary Hobson, the stage manager; Pat Bullard, property manager; the property committee is Max Hodges, Dick Hawk, Thelma Malvido; ticket manager, Joanne Gorham and her committee of Sue Dekker, Carla George, Mildred McEntire, Jean Molan. The publicity chairman is Barbara Stoney. Her committee consists of Mary McElroy, Jean Morlan, Joan Carr, Larry Harris, and Sue Douglas. The stage set chairman is Robert Jensen and his committee consists of Jean Morlan, Carla George, John Chitwood, Jack Sully and Don Day.

The results of the Pepsi-Cola test, given to three seniors from participating high schools throughout the nation, have been received. The tests were graded by numbers from 10 through 1. The number 10 indicated that the student placed in the top 10 percent of all the students, and 1 placed the student in the lowest 10 percent. Carmel's entrants were Joanne Gorham, Mary Gregory, and Sue Dekker; the first two received 7 as a grade, and Sue received 5.

The annual girls' track meet came off with great success last Wednesday. About 60 girls turned out for the eleven events, of which the winners are as follows: Running broad jump, Carol Smith and Edelen Cory tied with 13 feet, 10 inches; hop-step-jump, Carol Smith 28 inches; three-legged relay, Beverly Wightman and Patsy Canoles; 40 yard dash, Joan Carr, 5.4 seconds; 60 yard dash, Edelen Cory, 7.4; soccer obstacle dribble, Anne Fratessa, 15½ seconds; punt for distance, Shirley Petty, 124 feet, 6 inches; baseball throw, Jackie Briggs, 123 feet, 8 inches; basketball throw, Joan Dillingham, 63 feet, 7 inches; base running, Sue Dekker, 10½ seconds; 240 yard relays, Carol Templeman, Edwina Brown, Carol Smith, and Carol Petty.

Softball season is here for boys' intramural sports, and three games have been played, two with surprising results. The seniors have lost to both the freshmen and the sophomores, and the juniors tied one up with the sophomores. Team captains are as follows: Bob Bell, seniors; Lee Winslow, juniors; Dick Taplin, sophomores; Denicio Narvaez, freshmen. Phil Wettengel is commissioner of boys' athletics in charge of the games.

April Shower

Joy Westcott, a junior at Carmel High School, last Saturday gave a luncheon at the Normandy Inn in honor of her cousin, Barbara Westcott, who was visiting here from Soledad. After the luncheon the girls went to the home of their hostess for a few hands of bridge. The surprise of the afternoon came when an April Shower was presented to the guest of honor, whose wedding will take place during the month of May, at which Joy Westcott will be bridesmaid. The house was decorated with spring flowers and the mantel was banked with iris and fragrant stock, with taper candles to add to the beauty. Many of the guests were former schoolmates of the bride-to-be and they came from King City and Soledad for this occasion.

Wedding Bells For Dorothy

Dorothy E. Betts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Nixon, became the bride of Elwood E. Cone, son of Professor and Mrs. E. W. Cone of Moscow, Idaho. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. John A. Logan at the Church of the Wayfarer. Her bridesmaid was Miss Alice Witmore, and her matron of honor, Mrs. J. H. Hirrlinger. Mr. J. H. Hirrlinger was best man. The bridal party gathered in the alcove room at La Ribera Hotel where the table was beautifully decorated with maiden hair fern and sweet peas. The tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was a beautiful centerpiece. After toasts to the newlyweds, they cut their cake and the wedding dinner was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Cone made La Ribera Hotel their headquarters for the weekend. They left for Oakland Sunday afternoon, where they have an apartment.

The new Mrs. Cone attended Sunset School and graduated from the Carmel High School. Mr. Cone is a graduate from the University of Idaho and is now with Westinghouse in San Francisco, where he is an engineer and salesman.

It was a famous circus show and all the little children squealed when the master of ceremonies, Egbert Gaggenstein, called the different ones by name. The parents enjoyed the show as much as the children.

Billy Bryant Will Speak

What promises to be one of the most unusual and entertaining programs of the year will be given on Monday, April 28, at the Carmel Women's Club, when Billy Bryant of Show Boat fame will speak on Children of Ole Man River. He has been called a Will Rogers of the River, and in his presentation he will review forty years on the river, from the Alleghenies to the Gulf of Mexico.

Captain Bryant is the author of hundreds of stories, but his Children of Ole Man River, the life story of the Bryants, is still his most outstanding literary work. Movie rights of the book recently were sold, and the picture will shortly go into production in Hollywood. Coupled with his experiences on the show boat and his great knowledge of the river life is a very pleasing personality and a genuine sense of humor.

"As Homelike As a Barn"

Cy Hartman finally got his new barn painted, but plenty of folks had a hand in it. Whenever someone got a free day, or a little extra time, they'd come over and help out with paint and brush.

And Cy, to show his appreciation, held a big "barn warming" Saturday—for all the folks who'd helped him (but not barring those who couldn't). Ma Hartman supplied sandwiches, and Cy rolled out a mellow keg of beer.

You'd never think of a barn as "homelike." But with those lanterns hanging from the rafters; make-shift tables spread heavy with food; and Ed Carey's fiddle playing while the folks enjoyed their beer—Cy's barn was sure a mighty hospitable-looking place!

From where I sit, it's just about as appropriate to have a barn warming as a housewarming... if only because it's another chance to get neighbors together in a spirit of good fellowship.

Makes Appeal For Poland

Miss Xenia Zytomirska, attachee and cultural representative of the Polish Embassy on the west coast, speaking to the Monterey Peninsula Branch of American Association of University Women, was heard Saturday night, April 19.

Miss Zytomirska spoke on the living, cultural and educational conditions of Poland now and during the war. During the war, Miss Zytomirska joined the underground movement in Warsaw against the Germans. Warsaw had by this time been 87 percent destroyed, and the city was in complete devastation.

Now the slow and painful reconstruction period has begun, mostly by hand. There are no machines. The Polish people can't ever forget the millions of martyrs in the war, and they want the Americans to understand.

Miss Zytomirska appealed to the people of Carmel to obtain the names and addresses of people in Poland from her to whom they could send letters and clothing.

Mrs. Howard Clark introduced the speaker. Mrs. G. M. Beal, president of the A. A. U. W., was present. At the business meeting, new officers were elected: Mrs. Thor Krogh, vice-president, Miss Edna Pearce, treasurer. The president and secretary will serve another year. Mrs. Blanchard Steeves was hostess chairman.

The president and vice-president will attend the convention to be held in Santa Barbara, May 16 and 17.

Breakfast Of Church Women

Next Sunday and Monday, April 27 and 28, the National Council of Catholic Women will hold their seventeenth annual convention. The convention will open with Mass at 9 a. m., Sunday, at the Royal Presidio Chapel at Church street, Monterey. At 10 a. m. registration will begin at the convention headquarters, the San Carlos Hotel. The business meeting will open at 1:00 o'clock in the solarium of the hotel, when Mayor J. R. The convention is open to all Catholic women and their guests. For dinner and luncheon reservations call Mrs. Ethel Hyde, Monterey 4467.

Lachmunds Have Gone

During the Easter vacation, they were joined by their daughter, Anne, who flew out from Smith College. On the way to Carmel the Lachmunds spent a week at Sun Valley enjoying the skiing. The Lachmunds are amongst the earliest people to spend their vacations in Carmel, dating from the days when George Sterling and a group of writers, artists, and musicians settled here, among whom Mrs. Young was an active member.

A new and needed addition to Carmel is a trained corsetiere. Mrs. Thelma Tilson has joined the staff of THE PIONEER on Dolores where her twelve years of experience in corsetry will enable her to help you with basic problems. Mrs. Tilson is an expert in refitting, altering or repairing corsets of any sort and if you're not comfortable in your foundation garment she can probably make you so. THE PIONEER carries the Charis line which includes elastic pantie girdle, five ounce nylon briefs as well as real corsets with inner belts for a firm restraining influence on problem figures. Whether its corsets or brassieres, Mrs. Tilson will fit you with a tender regard for your own particular requirements.

THE GOURMET SHOP in the Pine Inn on Ocean Avenue has the exclusive agency on the Peninsula for Blum's candy and there you'll find a complete assortment of Blum's candies at Blum's own prices. A gift of Blum's candy wrapped most beautifully by THE GOURMET will please, though you will find it difficult to let a box of such delicacies as French nougat or bittersweet mints pass out of your hands to even your most loved friend. There's a two-pound variety box with a little of everything Blum's makes or if you wish THE GOURMET will make a luxurious gift package, cellophanned and beribboned, of any combination of Blum's boxes of candies.

Rich, glowing color and mysterious design set the pure silk scarves in GUMPS on Dolores apart from just the ordinary run of scarves. These scarves are made of silk as delicate and lustrous as a butterfly's wing and are imported from Syria. The designs are handblocked and combine unusual bird and animal forms with cabalistic signs. There's one in black, white and red we liked—with a beautiful silver sheen to the white parts of the design and one in red Anyone who is a mother or anyone who is not a mother will be pleased with a Mother's Day Sweet Treet box from THE HOUSE OF HANSEL AND GRETEL on Ocean Avenue. From .85 to $5.00 the Sweet Treet boxes cost, packed with any variety of candy and if she—maternal or otherwise—be partial to licorice, THE HOUSE OF HANSEL AND GRETEL can supply licorice in seven different forms, including licorice gumdrops and jellies and licorice caramels. If not licorice, why not chocolate bars filled with peppermint, marzipan, marshmallow or orange—or maple nut fudge?

I've been looking for coffee ice cream ever since I last tasted it on a hot summer day in Durham, North Carolina, and here it turns up in THE VILLAGE CORNER. It seems coffee ice cream has been more popular in the East than in the West, but once you know it, you'll be wanting it—maybe in preference to those other eight ice cream flavors to be found at THE VILLAGE CORNER. You might like it even better than peppermint.

What seems to me a new and sensible trend in greeting cards is observable in the Mother's Day cards in FORTIER'S. Many of the cards have sachets in them to perfume a handkerchief box or just for pleasant smelling. There are other cards for the day in FORTIER'S with flowers and feathers and lace and if you should happen not to have a mother to send a card to there's one addressed to "A favorite Aunt on Mother's Day."

I can spend hours looking into the small colored world seen through a Viewmaster. SPENCER'S HOUSE OF CARDS on Ocean Avenue has Viewmasters and many long files of picture reels for them. A reel on Clovelly in Devon, England, showed cliffs and sea very like the Peninsula but the reels on Alpine Wildflowers of the West put all others in the shade. There are ten of these reels, all on wildflowers of the Cascade Range photographed in brilliant color and clear detail and there's a manual available to study with them describing the character and habits of each flower. The deluxe Viewmaster costs $2.00 and the reels are .35 each or three for one dollar—and well worth it.

You can find practically anything you want these days in THE GROCERY DEPARTMENT OF THE CARMEL DRIVE-IN MARKET on Dolores. Mrs. Poirier's smiling face presides over shelves well-filled with plain and fancy groceries including a wide choice of soap, bar, chip and powder, and a goodly supply of toilet paper. For the weekend there will be a special on coffee—for .45 a pound you may have Hacienda coffee. That's good coffee and a good price at which to buy it.

In TURNEY'S MEAT MARKET in THE CARMEL DRIVE-IN on Dolores you'll find the famous Jones Dairy Farm Sausages. If you know these delectable sausages, read no further but go and buy. Jones Dairy Farm Sausage is different and delightful and if you haven't tried it, well, do so!

What's better than mail in the box? There's a new gift for children available through JEZEBEL'S DOG HOUSE that will thrill a child to the core for the gift consists of weekly cards sent out by Wesley Dennis, illustrator of children's books, and each card has on it a lively picture of animals and a story about the drawing. The cards are attractive and informative and there are few

ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW OF CARMEL WOMAN'S CLUB

On May 4 and 5 the annual Flower Show sponsored by the Carmel Woman's Club will be held in the Girl Scout House. things that please a child more than receiving mail: You can subscribe to the service by calling Mrs. Von Aken at JEZEBEL'S DOG HOUSE on San Carlos or write her at P. O. Box 1271, Carmel. The series of 52 cards, plus a gift announcement, costs $3.00.

There's a certain self-satisfied air that goes quite properly with a cashmere sweater. EARL GLENNON'S on Dolores at Ocean has cashmere sweaters to put a gleam in your eye over their softness of texture and beauty of color. These sweaters are of pure imported cashmere, hand loomed and hand finished, with long or short sleeves and in sizes up to 50—which is unusual and extra large. The colors include green, navy blue, red, beige and a soft golden maize.

All Invited To Board Destroyer In Monterey Bay

During the war some of them vowed that they would never stand on a pitching deck again, but the call of the sea is strong and the salt gets in a man's blood. He starts thinking of those long quiet night watches with the dark sea shearing away from the stem, slapping and hissing along the sides and unrolling astern like a silver-streaked carpet. He remembers the luminous stars, the glory of sunrise and set, the comradeship of messmates, the choking excitement of General Quarters.

The men of the peacetime Naval Reserve who will bring the destroyer U. S. S. Shields into Monterey harbor on Saturday on an overnight training cruise from Oakland remember those things and, although most of the time they are land-locked in offices and trades, on these training cruises they become once again the seamen who swept the Axis fleets from the seas.

The Oakland Naval Reserve, under Lt. Comdr. R. R. Weir, expects to arrive in Monterey at 3 p. m., Saturday, and depart at 9 a. m., Sunday, to return to its Oakland base. Under way, the officers and men will conduct emergency drills, gunnery exercises, learn new radar and sonic techniques, and, although this time there is no foreign post to visit, plans are being made to include one in the two weeks' summer cruise.

Veterans of all branches of the Armed Forces and non-veterans who are interested in the Naval Reserve are cordially invited to composed granite, the gutter would be the same type as mentioned in the first proposal, and then the leveling of the streets would be held down to a minimum. SEEDS FROM LINCOLN PINE

Anyone who wishes to have seeds from the Lincoln street pine tree may obtain them by getting in touch with Mrs. S. M. Ward, Box 1655, Monterey. While driving through Carmel the day after the tree was sawed down, Mrs. Ward and her mother took some of the branches home. From cones on these she took the seeds. She has about a dozen seeds and will give them to anyone who wishes to grow some beautiful pine trees.

Council by Mr. Charles U. Fonteneau, he stated that the citizens wanted their streets graded and oiled at the price of 25 cents per lineal foot and nothing else.

Mayor Godwin stated that he was going to follow the wishes of the majority of the people, but he also wants the people of the district involved to hear the city's tentative proposals instead of listening to any one person's viewpoint.

"It is not only a question of paving streets, but the safety of the people. If there were properly paved streets on Tenth and Eleventh streets, the children would be much safer walking to school and also older people would be able to go walking at night without breaking their legs."

The matter of the surfacing of Tenth and Eleventh streets was held over to the next City Council meeting, while the city attorney is drawing up a resolution fixing the boundaries which will be taken up in the next meeting.

"Some citizens do not seem to realize that the City Council is there to try and make Carmel an ideal place to live. The council members are not there as individuals, but as one group, all working toward the same goal. They are not receiving any money for their positions, but are donating their time for the welfare of everyone concerned."

The council, mayor and city attorney repeatedly emphasized that the people will have the choice of voting yes or no on the street issue. The people in the district will either receive a form through the mail or they may write a letter expressing their opinion, and if the majority vote no, then the matter will be dropped completely.

Speaking of safety, and improving streets, since this is the school edition of The Pine Cone, the high school students feel that there should be an underpass across the highway to the high school. When the high school was built, it was promised that there would be an underpass built. No one wants to see the underpass dedicated to "The first student killed while crossing the highway to the high school." Don't wait until this happens! It is a necessary safety precaution for your children.

PAROLE VIOLATOR FAINTS

Delbert Simpson, alias James O'Brian, a parole violator from Iowa, and a dope addict, was picked up here on a vagrancy charge and is in Salinas jail for 30 days.

Simpson was taken to the Community Hospital after faking a fall in Fortier's Drug Store. The doctor could not find anything wrong with him, but he insisted on having a shot of dope to ease the pain.

Happy Birthday To Scooterin' Charlie

Say, did you happen to see a scooter go by here? You did, but you don't know who it was? Well, let me tell you it was Charlie Jaquith. You see, Charlie just had a birthday the other day, April 23, to be correct. It was his 75th although you'd never know it, for he has never been sick a day in his life. He was born right here in California and came to Carmel in 1923 to nurse his mother before she died, and has lived here ever since. He is planning to visit his family in Los Angeles this coming weekend, and on the way will stop over to inspect his property at Morro Bay which has been increasing in value lately.

Charlie is a retired carpenter. I guess one of the outstanding things about him is his house on Dolores, because of his collection of many different types of gadgets. He has owned two motor scooters in the past and now is frequently seen scooting around town on his third, which he bought in San Jose a few weeks ago. Because of a recent inheritance he requested the state to remove his name from the pension list, and he is proud of his bankbook with its juicy entries.

Charlie has a fine garden and the pansies he raises are the largest in the world. Often he carries one or two when he goes to the post office and presents them to any friend he may happen to meet, as a token of good will.

—Rosemary Hobson, Senior.

Kate Boynton

Mrs. Kate Boynton died at her home in Pebble Beach last Monday evening, April 21, at the age of 88, after an illness of several years. She was a native of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and came to the Peninsula more than 40 years ago with her late husband, Fred H. Boynton. She had been a resident of Pebble Beach for the last 15 years.

Mrs. Boynton has survived all her relatives and arrangements for her funeral were made by friends. Service was held at Paul's Chapel in Pacific Grove on Thursday at 2:30, the Rev. Albert E. Clay officiating. She is buried in the family plot in El Carmelo Cemetery in Pacific Grove.

Carmel Receipts Up $16,152.39 In Clerk's Report

In the legal section of this issue The Pine Cone publishes the annual report of the city clerk. Citizens of Carmel are fortunate because the city's debt amounts to only $5,000, a small portion compared to the debt incurred by other cities of the same size.

The balance on December 31, 1946, was $67,529.70, a difference of $4,218.00 under the 1945 total of $71,747.70. The total receipts for 1946 were $150,366.06, an increase of $16,152.39 over the 1945 figure. Funds paid out in 1945 were $62,465.97 and jumped to $82,836.36 in 1946. This is due to the fact that city salaries on the whole climbed slightly upward and, as could be expected, more was spent in 1946 for the maintenance of all city departments, in accordance with rising prices. The increase is due also to the resumption of road maintenance and the purchase of new equipment.

The total cash on hand in all city funds is $118,505.89. This includes the Municipal Improvement Fund, the Seawall Fund, Major Street Improvement Fund, Library Fund, and the Special Fund for Capital Outlays.

There was little difference in the total amount received from all taxes. Receipts from personal property tax (unsecured) went from $619.04 to $1,027.32 in 1946, while other taxable items went slightly down. The sum received from liquor licenses was $1,775.00 in 1945 and went to $3,095.00 in 1946. It is also interesting to note that the traffic fines in 1946 nearly tripled those of 1945. With the lifting of

Parking Ordinance, Licenses, Signs Occupy Council

At the special meeting of the Carmel City Council Wednesday night the new ordinance establishing two-hour parking in the downtown business district had second reading and after some discussion of technicalities was passed by the council.

Also on the agenda were the following communications: A business license transfer of the Carmel Art Shop from Ashley E. Stetson to Marian Brueck was granted. Frances Whitaker's application to remove a pine tree crowding a fine oak tree was referred to the council for investigation, and the same was true of a letter received from Charlotte M. Collins requesting the removal of two dead pine trees on Dolores street on the east side just south of Eleventh, which were claimed to be eyesores and dangerous.

The sign permit application of the Carmel Smoke Shop was held over for the next regular meeting when a more appropriate suggestion can be obtained rather than the newly proposed one, "Wine, Hamburgers, and Beer," which was thought by the council to only help lower the ideals of the business district and the community as a whole.

A palmit license application that was requested by John Hastie was referred to the chief of police for investigation before granting of license. The request from the planning commission to obtain maps and booklets was granted.

A resolution was passed permitting the Lucky Boy Market to make store front alterations on the approval of the planning commission and the application of the La Playa Hotel for minor alterations was also granted.

Held over to be referred to the planning commission was the request by Roy Crosby, owner of lot 5, block 4, tract 4, in Paradise Park for permission to make an access road across lot 6, a parcel set aside for crossing into Hatton Fields at the end of Mountain View Avenue.

The application to change city offices to the Old Rectory on Monte Verde street was passed.

The most disputed proposal on the agenda was the surfacing of Tenth and Eleventh streets. Two Rehearsals are proceeding satisfactorily, according to reports. Several men players of middle years are still needed for the last two scenes, the trial and condemnation of Joan. Since last week the following have been added to the cast: Peter Hatley, Charlotte Marx, Andrew Di Girolamo, Gene Eplett, John Higbee, Gabrielle Kuster, Nicky Le Feuvre, Norman Romwall, Arthur Balazs, Charles Kilian, Malcolm Moulder, and Mingdon Todd.

tentative proposals were read by an engineer, hired by the city, to the council for discussion. After some lengthy discussion it was decided to have the city attorney draw up a proposal fixing the boundaries which will be taken up at the next meeting before the proposals are put before the property owners for approval.
